

To all NPS Faculty, Staff, and Students:

Martin Luther King, Jr. Middle School requests your help.

Tuesday, 2 March 2004 celebrates the 100th birthday of the creator of Dr. Seuss.

Ted Seuss' legacy "Dr. Seuss" has stimulated the imaginations of children worldwide for over 60 years.

On this day, schools across the United States will commemorate his birthday by participating in the "Read Across America" program.

Join your colleagues and other prominent community members as they sit and read their favorite childhood books to the students of King Middle School.
